

I am trying to create a Intro to a video of a wedding clip. The finished production when burned to DVD will have 3 scenes (preparation, church service and a reception).

The Heart Image will contain different 'clips' which correspond to the scene being viewed.

This is the background image scaled down for this request. (actual size is 1920X1080)

The snapshot to the right is a Power director menu with similar (used loosely) to what I am after but I am not experienced enough in Power Director to figure out how to accomplish this effect. The 'Ticket image" would be my Heart shapes, but I am not sure how I the image of the dog is incorporated as the black section of my heart image.
